QCCS were engaged by QAL to undertake improvement works to the existing West Coal Stilling Pond due to the existing condition raising environmental non-compliance. The works undertaken by QCCS include the installation of a sheet pile wall to intercept the existing seepage paths, remediation of tongue walls, construction of additional finger walls and an upgrade to new oil containment booms. With the application of past experience and effective project management techniques, QCCS were able to successfully execute this project on time, within budget, safely and efficiently.
